

Greenspan: Institutional money in hedge funds could strain markets

Federal Reserve Board Chairman Alan Greenspan has expressed concern about the impact of institutional investments in hedge funds on the general state of the financial system and on the derivatives market in particular. He is concerned that short