

Fund managers: Fees on the rise

Despite the less than top notch performance turned in by hedge funds so far this year, fund managers say that the high fee charges are most likely to keep climbing

The following is according to a story by Reuters published on Ju