

Greenspan: Regulation of hedge funds will do more harm than good

According to Federal Reserve Head Alan Greenspan, regulation is not the right remedy with which to ease concerns about the impact of hedge funds on the markets

The following is according to a story published by HedgeWeek on May