

Hedge fund fees take a plunge

According to industry insiders, hedge fund fees will be under pressure to come down as investors discover that a substantial chunk of returns isn't produced by managing skills

The following is reported by Reuters in a story publ