

Hedge funds inflows suffer in the second quarter

As expected by several experts, hedge fund inflows have suffered in the second quarter due to the lackluster returns, which have lagged the overall stock market.

New money placed in hedge funds fell 60 percent as it only totalled a net $10.9 bil