

Hedge funds playing a bigger role in credit markets

In a report published today, Fitch assesses the rapidly emerging role of hedge funds in the global credit markets, specifically examining the degree to which credit risk is being diffused or, alternatively, re-concentrated within hedge funds.

“W