

Hedge funds and private equity: competitors and benefactors

According to several industry insiders, hedge funds play an overall positive role for private equity firms, despite the fact the two often are competitors

The following is reported by Reuters on August 4. While hedge funds and p