

Investor activism goes mainstream

A spreading tendency among hedge funds to target weak or cash rich companies and force them to make management changes is now beginning to be seen among more traditional investors as well.

August 31 (Reuters): An emerging strate