

IFI WEEKLY PENSIONS: European pension funds investing directly in private companies

A new trend in European funds management is beginning to emerge as pension funds target new investment opportunities to enhance return. Some of the largest pension funds in Europe have begun to invest directly in private companies, bypassing the private