

Major loophole in new SEC regulation

A giant loophole in the new SEC regulation will allow funds to do exactly the opposite of the rules intention, which is to protect investors.

November 15 (MarketWatch): The new SEC rules require certain hedge funds to register w