

Hedge fund firms face more growth and scrutiny

Despite modest returns from some strategies and increased investor and government scrutiny, the hedge fund industry is showing few signs that its growth is slowing.

February 7 (Reuters): Despite lackluster returns from some stra