

Investment bankers preach but won't practise M&A

Many of Europe's investment banks don't see the logic in merging with each other.

January 4 (Reuters): Many of Europe's investment banks, which make millions from telling companies to buy other companies, don't see the logic in