

New Research Fills Gap in Analysis of Hedge Fund Survival, Attrition Rates and Survivorship Bias

New research provides investors with vital tools for evaluating the potential longevity, or possible liquidation, of hedge funds

April 26, 2006: New research funded by the Foundation for Managed Derivatives Research (FMDR) provi