

The Nordic hedge fund index (NHX) preliminary est. down -0.19% for June, 81% of funds reporting

According to preliminary estimates, the Nordic hedge funds, like their international peers, still struggled during June, being down an estimated -0.19% for the month. However, this marks an upturn from May's final result of -1.47%.