

Brummer & Partners close Latitude

After a year of disappointing returns and with a YTD of around -27%, the Swedish hedge fund company Brummer and Partners has decided to close down their global macro fund Latitude.

After having produced poor returns during 2006