

Hedge funds move away from equities strategies

Following the influx of new derivatives products, multi strategy and fixed income strategies have gained favour.

August 14 (Financial Times/MSN.com): According to a new report from m.a. partners, an independent management