

Hedge funds tripped up by the equity markets

According to an industry insider, the hedge funds which have failed to hedge and thus have been too directional during the past months are to blame for the industry's bad spell.

August 22 (Daily Telegraph): Hedge fund managers w