

Danish pension funds move to infrastructure, see alternative allocations growing

According to Danish pension fund executives, infrastructure has become an attractive investment opportunity. Also, they generally see alternative investments increasing among Danish pension funds in the future.

September 26 (Glo