

Energy hedge fund losses prompt call for transparency

According to an industry insider, hedge funds may be forced to be more open about their operations following the recent blow-ups of energy funds MotherRock and Amaranth.

October 24 (Reuters): According to energy risk m