

Regulators: Retailisation of hedge funds creates fraud potential

According to international hedge fund regulators, while the hedge fund industry hitherto has produced few examples of major fraud, further introduction to retail investors may increase the fraud frequency.

December 4 (Reuters):