

High profile Swedish maverick investor dismisses call for massive company pay outs

According to Sven-Olof Johansson, one of Sweden's most prominent investors, companies risk digging their own grave by heading the call to pay out record dividends in order to avoid activist funds.

If the major Swedish exchange