

Research: Choose emerging funds over funds with long track-records

According to new research, investors should seek out funds just starting up, not funds with long track records, even if those funds are successful and popular.

February 8 (HedgeWorld): Too often hedge fund investors, particu