

EU launches legal action against member countries over tardy MiFID-implementation

The European Commission has launched legal action against 24 member countries as they have failed to implement the MiFID-directive into their legislations on time.

April 24 (Reuters): The European Commission has launched