

Germany pushes for more hedge fund regulation, counters US proposal

The German government continues its quest for a fixed code of conduct to be obeyed by hedge funds, while saying that US policies of providing guidelines are not adequate.

April 21 (Bloomberg): The German government remains