

Hedge fund, PE activists to enter the Danish market

In recent months, the Swedish business industry has seen significant activist investor activity, notably from hedge fund and private equity manager Christer Gardell. Experts believe that it will be only a matter of time before the activists will