

Bear Stearns executive fired over subprime woes

Warren Spector, third at the top at investment bank Bear Stearns, has been forced to leave his position following investor pressure to act in the wake of the subprime-crisis which has shaken the company.

Bear Stearns announced