

Pecunia manager to work for free following fund return descent

Ragnhild Wiborg, the manager of the troubled Swedish equity hedge fund Pecunia must now forego her performance fee and is thus working for free until the fund has levelled out its return dip. The fund must return 24% before Wiborg can claim her