

Sale rumours surround Brummer & Partners

According to sources connected to Brummer & Partners, the largest hedge fund management company in Scandinavia, the company is on the verge of being sold. The reason is reportedly the personnel exodus recently experienced by the company.