

Survey: 56% of FoHF investors are institutional

Institutional investors account for more than half of all money allocated to funds of hedge funds, a new survey finds.

September 19 (Institutional Investor): Institutional investors account for more than half of all money allocated to funds of hedge funds, a new survey finds.