

Independent voice benefits European hedge funds

Independent administrators provide a level of protection for investors in European hedge funds that is often lacking in th