

It is time for hedge fund industry shake-out

March 14th (The Independent): When the credit crisis first struck it was expected that hedge funds would suffer greatly, but in the beginning the effect on hedge funds was surprisingly limited. Even when funds reported great losses, their banks