

Hedge funds industry the target of unreasonable criticism

The Alternative investment Management Association (“AIMA”) – the global hedge fund industry association – notes that the hedge fund industry is facing a renewed wave of unwarranted criticism at a time when many hedge fund managers are doing what they se