

India's finance minister blames hedge funds for rising food prices

India considers a ban on trading in food futures, the FT reported today. Asia is concerned over the rise in commodities prices, seen there by many to be caused by hedge funds and financial markets. P. Chidambaram, India's finance minister, also