

Global Oil Summit produces few solutions

Saudi Arabia held a summit earlier this week in the Red Sea port of Jeddah that brought together oil producers and political leaders from consumer countries, including UK's Gordon Brown, who called for a new global deal and underlined the need f