

New trend towards seed capital

With investors becoming less willing to invest into start-ups because there is no managerial track record or risk control is expensive, seed capital can be a solution for smaller hedge funds, which is getting more and more popular, the FT report