

Sweden: Central government payments gave a surplus in June

Central government payments in June gave a surplus of SEK 13.8 billion. The surplus was thus SEK 4.1 billion higher than the Debt Office's forecast.

The deviation is mainly explained by tax revenue being SEK