

Industry calls for measured approach in dealing with financial market volatility

The Alternative Investment Management Association (AIMA) - the leading global representative association for the hedge fund industry - has spoken out against calls for a ban on short selling of bank stocks in the wake of the proposed takeover of HBOS by