

Goldman Sachs is cutting back hedge fund clients

According to Financial Times, Goldman Sachs is cutting back the number of its hedge fund clients in an indication of tougher market conditions and of the changes sweeping through what was once the premier investment bank.

- Their ability to leve