

U.S. enters EU hedge fund row

The Wall Street Journal reports that the United States is quietly lobbying Europe to change the terms of the hedge fund directive.

The draft directive, announced in April, allows managers in non-EU countries to sell their funds to European inves