

eQ: September did not change the environment

The environment is rewarding for hedge funds: not only are trend following and directional strategies favored by strong market moves, but arbitrage strategies are also assisted by reduced fina