

Avenir: US economy continue to face structural headwinds

- On back of the correction in European markets, we have returned to a more constructive stance on the markets. At the end of the month our net position was 16 pct long the equity markets. The uncertainty over European Union-led