

Emeralt: Interest rates will remain subdued

Emeralt Investments has started to take down their corporate bond exposure from its record highs during the summer to a level around 10 pct.

- We believe interest rates will remain subdued for some time and the high yields