And if you're just not sure it's for you, here are three good reasons why you should attend:

- Network with over 90 Quant and CTA Investors who are actively evaluating quantitative investment opportunities
- Hear from Quant pioneers like Albert-Laszlo Barabasi, Gunduz Caginalp and Stefano Battiston as they attempt to predict future performance and unveil their latest models
- Get that shot of adrenalin to take back to your funds. Hear from the top quant and cta managers and investors in the region on what they think a top performing fund will look like in 2013.

This isn't just another conference. It's a short, sharp insight on the topics just on the horizon including how to...

- Achieve an integrated approach to risk
- Evaluate the returns on emerging markets when offset against risks
- Exploit minimum variance to achieve steady returns and low risk sensitivity
- Evaluate whether the industry has effectively responded to create acute risk awareness
- Achieve true diversification and avoid overcrowding
- Reduce overall portfolio volatility and achieve optimal portfolio performance
