

The Race is on for Nordic Rookie of 2019

Stockholm (HedgeNordic) – Since 2015, one of the categories celebrated at the Nordic Hedge Award is the most promising new launch among Nordic hedge funds. Funds considered for the “Nordic Hedge Fund Rookie of the Year” award have a track record of fewer than 15 months but have at least three monthly NAVs preceding the year-end net asset value (NAV) of the respective fund. Funds must be listed in the Nordic Hedge Index and meet the criteria required for such listing. There is no minimum or maximum requirement for assets under management.

For the “2019 Rookie of the Year”, the following funds are qualified:

Agenta Alternativa Investeringar	Carlsson Norén Yield Opportunity	Coeli Energy Transition	Crescit Protect
Danske Invest Europe Long- Short Equity Factors	Danske Invest Global Macro Hedge Fund	HP Hedge Fixed Income	ia
Investin Othania Etisk Formuevækst	Länsförsäkringar Multistrategi	Proxy Long/Short Energy	Proxy Renewable Long/Short Energy
SRV - Fixed Income

Unlike the other, regular categories where a quant model is used in combination with a jury board of representatives of asset owners and allocators, the “Nordic Hedge Fund Rookie of the Year” is determined by fellow fund managers, making this a prized peer award.

The jury for the “Nordic Hedge Fund Rookie of the Year” is put together of Bo Michael Andersen (SEB), the Rookie of the Year 2018, Jonas Sandefeldt (QQM), Rasmus Viggers (Formue Nord), Per Ivarsson (RPM) and Staffan Östlin (Adrigo Asset Management).
