

European Short Observer

September 2017

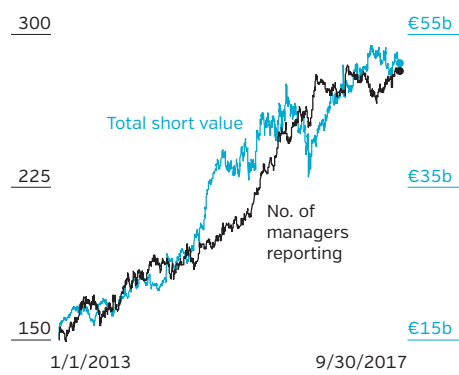

Analysis & Commentary by Luca Angelini

This report displays insights from the European Short Disclosure Regulation (ESMA). Using daily filings, we track over 50 billion Euros in short investments across more than 250 managers. Here we'll explore last month's sector exposure changes and best short picks. We've also ranked the most shorted securities, the most covered securities, and the top new shorts.

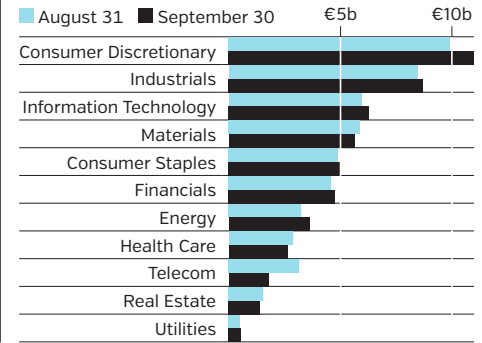

The biggest increase during September in aggregate shorted value was in Consumer Discretionary. Norske Skogindustrier was the best short, with no managers shorting at the end of the month. Among the best shorts, the most crowded was Countrywide. The most shorted security by short interest was zooplus, with five new managers shorting it.

Elis was the most covered security, with eight managers closing the position, and an aggregate decrease in shorted value of around 250 million Euros.

Below, we've displayed the top ten shorts and the top five new shorts of the month ranked by short interest. Among these, Compagnie Generale De Geophysique - Veritas is still the most shorted overall, and Castellum was the most shorted of the new shorts.
